

Instructions for Use

Slip the forceps through the loop on the cordring. With another pair of forceps squeeze the Umbilical cord near the mother.

Using the forceps with the cordring squeeze the cord close to the baby, ensuring the cord is fully enclosed within the forceps.

Cut through the umbilical cord on the mother's side and close the forceps with the cordring.

Take the cordring handle and pull the cordring from the forceps over the umbilical cord.

Cut off the cordring handle close to the umbilical cord.

Complete.